Sir:

Informal Proposed Amendment For Purposes Of Examiner Consideration

In response to an invitation from the Examiner, proposed herein without prejudice is a claim amendment for the Examiner's consideration.

Proposed Amendments to the Claims

21. (currently amended) The method according to claim 20 wherein the at least one transaction function device is operative to dispense cash, wherein in step (e) the at least one tactile input device includes a keypad, wherein inputs to the keypad are operative to control at least one transaction function device in operative connection with the at least one computer.

38. (currently amended) An automated financial transaction apparatus comprising:

a data receiving device operative to receive data indicative of at least one characteristic feature corresponding to a user;

a display screen device;

at least one actuator selectively operable to physically move the display screen device;

at least one computer in operative connection with the at least one actuator and at least one data store, wherein the data store includes data representative of a plurality of characteristic features, and for each characteristic feature, a corresponding user and at least one interface parameter, and wherein the at least one computer is operative responsive to the data receiving device receiving data indicative of at least one first user characteristic feature, to determine first user data corresponding to a first user, and determine at least one first user interface parameter corresponding to the first user data, and to cause the display screen at least one actuator to selectively either operate or not operate to physically move the display screen device responsive to based on the at least one first user interface parameter.

39. (currently amended) The apparatus according to claim 44 [[38]] and further comprising at least one actuator operable to physically move the display screen device, and wherein the at least one computer is operative to cause the at least one actuator to physically move the display screen device a movement mechanism, and wherein the computer is operative when the display screen is to be operated, to cause the movement mechanism to move the display screen responsive to the determined at least one first user interface parameter.

40. (currently amended) The apparatus according to claim 38 [[39]] wherein the at least one actuator is operative to change movement mechanism changes an angle of view of the display screen device.

43. (currently amended) The apparatus according to claim 38 [[39]] wherein the at least one actuator is operative to change movement mechanism changes vertical height of the display screen device.

44. (currently amended) An automated financial transaction apparatus comprising:

a display screen device,

at least one computer,

wherein the at least one computer is operative to permit an authorized user to carry out a transaction, wherein the at least one computer is operative to cause to be determined for each respective one of a plurality of authorized users, [[a]] at least one respective interface parameter display screen position correlated in at least one data store with the respective authorized user, wherein for each respective authorized user, the correlated at least one respective interface parameter includes a respective display screen device position, and wherein for each respective authorized user the at least one computer is operative to cause the display screen device to be physically moved to ~~a~~ determined the respective display screen device position correlated with that respective authorized user in the at least one data store.

REMARKS

Claims 1-14, 16-18, 20-21, 23-46 are pending. The above proposed amendment to claims 21, 38-40, and 43-44 has been presented to advance prosecution toward allowance.

Consideration thereof is respectfully requested. No new matter would be added.

Applicants respectfully submit that entry of the above proposed amendment would place the application in condition for allowance. The Examiner is authorized to enter the above proposed amendment by Examiner's Amendment without prejudice, in order to place the application in condition for allowance.

The undersigned is willing to discuss any aspect of the Application.

Respectfully submitted,
